Synopsis of the Annual Report to be Submitted at the Next Meeting.

Among the most thoroughly benevolent institutions in this city is the Woman's Christian association home, on Thirteenth street, between R and S streets northwest. The building, which was erected specially by the founders of the organization, is a comfortable and commodious one. It is divided into comfortable parlors, dining rooms, kitchen, fourteen bed rooms for female inmates, fourteen bed rooms for female inmates, and departments for old ladies and children. A reporter of the REPUBLICAN, accompanied by Miss Catherine R. Hent, the matron, went through the rooms yesterday evening, and found them next, clean and comfortable. In the old ladies department the matron pointed out "Aunt Tilley," a venerable old lady, whose hair has been whitened by the snows of eighty-six winters. She is still hale, and in suite of her rips add whitened by the snows of eighty-six winters. She is still hale, and in spite of her ripe old age spends much of her time reading and sewing. Another inmate, not quite so old as "Aunt Tilley," devotes her spare moments to a pet Maltose cat. Her feline companion has been provided with a comfortable bed in one corner of the room, near which a tempting tray of meat and milk is constantly kept.

In the "foster home," or children's department the roporter found thirty-one ruddy faced, romping children, ranging from 3 to 10 years, playing together and singing in a large

This apartment was pleasantly warm, and contrasted significantly with the driving rain and wind outside, which howled and rattled the window panes. Mrs. Gar-dener, matron of this department, stated that the children have been remarkably healthy. Not one case of sickness has been reported this season. They are taught in a well regulated kindergarten school on the premises. The children are mostly half

The annual report of the home will be submitted at the next meeting of the association. It is an interesting paper, and shows that the home is supported by an annual congressional appropriation of $5000 complexitions. It is an interesting paper, and shows that the home is supported by an anumal congressional appropriation of $5,000, membership fees, donations from churches and individuals, and amounts paid by certain classes of boarders. The latter embraces a class of young girls who work at trades and in stores. They pay weekly sums, not greater in any case than $3.50. Then there is a class of oid ladies who pay an admission fee of $100, and are kept for life without additional payments. There is but one vacancy in this class and several applications. There are two old ladies whose board is regularly paid by the congregations of Wesley chapel and the New York Avenue Presbyterian church respectively. Many of the old ladies, however, are very poor and do not pay board. The total number of females accommodated during the year was 146, exclusive of children. At present there are twenty-eight inmates. During the past year forty-ave young girls have found employment through the agency of the association. Mothers with infants are taken in free. Any female is furnished with a night's lodging except she be under the influence of liquor. The food supplied is of good quality and the sleening be under the influence of liquor. The food supplied is of good quality and the sleeping accommodations all that could be desired.

The chief justice announced the revision and adoption of the rules of practice in this ourt.

In this revision the old numbers have been retained. The most important changes made are as follows: In rule 10, by reason of the want of appropriations by congress, the parties are required hereafter to pay in advance the cost of printing the record. In rule 26 provision is made for advancing cases once before heard on the merits and brought up by a second appeal or writ of error.

applicable only to appeals before Jan. 13, 1874, has been stricken out as obsolete and a new rule substituted for it embodying the settled practice of the court in relation to petitions for rehearing.

Attorney General Brewster, with appropriate remarks, presented the resolutions lately adopted by the bar relative to the death of the Hon. Jeromiah S. Black, to which the chief justice replied, and directed that the resolutions be entered on the minutes of the court.

THE NIGHT LODGING HOUSE.

What It Has done During the Brief Period of Its Existence.

Those citizens who have contributed to the above-named practical charity would feel well repaid should they step in any night and see the number made comfortable with a supsee the number made comfortable with a sup-per of soup, coffee, and bread, and a bed who would otherwise be on our streets hungry and homeless, and thus open to temptations to vice and criffee. Those who have not yet given in its aid would surely be inspired by the sight to give, and at once. The directors report that during the seven years of its ex-istence it has ledged over 30,000 persons and given over 60,000 meals. Such care is taken istence it has lodged over 30,000 persons and given over 60,000 meals. Such care is taken to exclude "tramps" from taking advantage of its charity that of all those thousands it is known that very few were otherwise than deserving, and they have been of all occupations, ages, and antionalities. The board of management consists of the following gentlemen, all well known to the citizens of the district. Hen M. G. Emery persident. A purchase of a building suitably located and arranged has been made by the board, and the sum of $4,000 is now required to may for the same. Donations toward this amount will be received by any of the directors, and it is to be hoped that the response will be so full and prompt that it will not be found necessary by them to call personally and solicit subscriptions for a charity so beneficent and yet so inexpensive. yet so inexpensive.

GARFIELD MEMORIAL HOSPITAL. Synopsis of Dr. Billings's Report on the Construction of the Building. The regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Garfield Memorial hospital was held last night. Dr. J. S. Billings, U. S. A., chairman of the committee on construction, submitted his annual report, detailing work on the hospital culargement. It stated that the walls of the new pavillion are up and the rafters all in position. As soon as the weather permits the building will be closed in and the interior work begun. Water has been introduced and a large boiler-iron tank put in the upper portion of the hospital. This will be used for the storage of water in order to get sufficient pressure. The tank will be supplied by means of an automatic pump in the grounds. Interior and exterior work will be carried on as fast as practicable, especially U. S. A., chairman of the committee o grounds. Interior and exterior work will be carried on as fast as practicable, especially plumbing and gas fitting. Prastering will be commenced next March, and the hospital buildings will be ready for occupancy by July 1 next. The total cost of the new building or pavillion will be about $12,000. It will be a neat two-story structure, surmounted by a curple vertilates and structured with all moderns. cupola ventilator, and supplied with all mod-cupoia ventiator, and supplied with all mod-ern hospital conveniences.

Owing to the inclement weather and the moderate attendance the other annual reports were not presented. Bids for heating appa-ratus have been received from a number of firms, ranging from $1,390 to $1,000.

The Columbia Hospital and Dr. Ellot. At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Columbia Hospital for Wemen and Lying-in asylum, called to take appro-priate notice of the decease of Johnson Eliot, M. D., vice president of the board, the follow-ing resolutions were unanimously passed:

ing resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resored. That we have heard with great regret of the death of our late friend and associate, Dr.
Johnson Ellot, and that we carnestly desire to testify our appreciation, not only of his high professional attainments, but of the faithful manner in which those attainments have ever been brought to the service of the hospital, and of his uniform courtesy and affability mall his relations
